- 11.4 If the Credit Union sells the Property because of a default by the Member, and the proceeds from the sale of the Property are insufficient to cover the amount owing by the Member to the Credit Union under this Agreement, the Credit Union reserves its rights to pursue the Member or any Guarantor for the remaining amount owed under this Agreement. This amount will be limited to the difference between the total amount owed by the Member as at the date of the sale of the Property and the proceeds of the sale of the Property.

- giving notice to the Credit Union at the Credit Union’s specified premises; or
  - posting the notice to the Credit Union; or
  - emailing the notice to the Credit Union’s email address; or
  - sending the notice to the Credit Union’s fax number.
- 12.4 The Member must also return to the Credit Union any Advance or Advances made under the Agreement, within the same timeframes.

- (a) the amount of any reasonable expenses the Credit Union had to pay in connection with the contract and its cancellation (including legal fees and fees for credit reports, etc.); and
  - (b) interest for the period from the day the Member received the Advance until the day that Advance is repaid.
- 12.6 This statement only contains a summary of the Member’s rights and obligations in connection with the right to cancel.
